Dear Producer;

I saw a story on your 6:00 p.m. news today concerning a teacher who may have been abusive to his students. I do not understand the criteria that your station uses to determine the merit of a story.

I' am the president of Community Improvement, Inc., and on numerous occasions we have contacted your station about the abuse of children, which has been taking place at Straight, Inc. for 16 years. Several of Straight's centers throughout the country have lost their operating licenses because of repeated abuse of their clients. This is just one of the examples that can be used to demonstrate that Straight's clients have been abused.

It is my opinion that your station reported the "teacher" story because it was safe and easy. It did not take much effort to put it together and the teacher is only one man. How can this teacher fight your station?

Straight is a very powerful organization, with Ambassadors as board members. The Straight story might cause one of these powerful people to get upset.

Hopefully in the future the quality and substance of your station's stories will improve.

Sincerely

Richard R. Bradbury
President
Community Improvement, Inc.
